Wireless presenting

In the meetingroom

Presenting your screen in the meeting room can be a real hassle. Finding the right cable, adapting the screen resolution or finding the correct input channel cost precious time and cause frustration. A wireless presenting tool keeps the meeting space tidy and gets meetings started on time.

Why i3SYNC is great for your meetings

Wireless connection

i3SYNC consists of a transmitter and receiver that communicate wirelessly, even without internet connection. Connect the transmitter to the HDMI-input of your laptop and the receiver to the display. No cables, no hassle.

Plug & play

Plug the transmitter into your laptop and press the button once to start the screen sharing session. Your presentation starts seamlessly on the display. No installation needed.

i3SYNC comes in 2 versions: Pro & Touch

Wireless Touch (i3SYNC TOUCH EXCLUSIVE)

Plug in the touch dongle to the USB port of your laptop to be able to use the touch display in the meeting room to navigate your laptop.

Quickly browse through the presentation slides, mark specific parts in the presentation or open other applications.

Charge station

The i3SYNC units are delivered with a charge station. The charge station allows you to charge your transmitters while storing them. The sleek design makes sure your meeting rooms are tidy and ready to go at all times.
